

An Easy Way to Answer
Almost All the Independent
Writing Questions

With Helpful Ideas and Collocations

	Concrete Concepts
Make valuable contacts	Having the unity nature	Technology
Stepping-stone to the best job opportunities. To be exposed to many people, Showing you have good command in... . Turn a nine-to-five job into a lucrative job. Opportunity to meet new people, extend your network, and make valuable contacts with more elites in your field of expertise.	People are doing solitary activities Helps them to come out of their loneliness. Gather friends and families together, Help their emotional bonds start to tighten subconsciously, Enjoy the company of each other.	Facilitate our lives enormously and specially knowledge acquiring, Getting bulk of information at their feel of comfort Quit brick-and- mortar teaching/marketing style Breached the limitation of counties' frontiers, Access to the state of the art information,
Old-fashioned people	Channeling people's mind	Effect of money
People's tastes and interests have changed and inclined to using technological assortments. No matter what strong credentials they have, seeing their teacher/parents not conversant with modern technology and their poor grasp of modern equipment , students/parents start getting this impression that their teachers are not as knowledgeable as they seem to be. They are not on the same page.	Are expert of psychological strategies and easily communicate and exert influence, To brainwash or lure people in to doing sth. To foul people, People in this situation are notoriously impressed with empty promises. Giving empty promises, without even bothering to check out whether the products live up to their promises or not Instilling biased concepts in their mind, affect their lifestyle, To win customer war against rivals Ex: Marketing companies lure gullible customers into buying products of poor quality. ✓Celebrity endorsement ✓Provocative images ✓Manipulating unconscious thoughts ✓Attention-grabbing words ✓Resorting to morally and ethically questionable practices to make a fortune. Teenagers who are suffering from anorexia to have their dream body or those who put themselves under the knife of surgery are the victims of fraudulent advertisers. Savvy buyer/customer	Prioritizing career concerns over the true aptitudes. Excessively acquisitive individuals. Doing sth for the sake of money and power, not for the sake of loving it, they will start valuing everything in terms of money, No financial compensation involved, demonstrate apathy toward their obligations, Study based on mercenary motives, not based on their affinity. Individuals with the get-quick-rich mentality To accumulate vast sums of money. Dire consequence.
Job	Culture of consumerism	Modern life
Commence, dead-end job, nine-to-five job, lucrative jobs, good promotion prospects, Outshine others/fellows, ability to handle miscellaneous tasks, much-needed flexibility to one's schedule,	Following an extravagant lifestyle, Put a great deal of effort, Under great pressure and tension, To achieve fancy apparatuses, Quench their thirst for earning more money, Boast about what they have.	Enabling them to learn how to deal with.... Acquiring experience, regardless of being related to some remarkable achievements or spectacular failures. Treasure trove of knowledge and experience. In terms of problem-solving, thinking and creativity, Independence, financial self-sufficient, Make decision at the moment.
Economy	Having less time	Wasting their time and avoid in-person communication
Providing a wide range of jobs and opportunities, Dynamic economy, Economic corruption, Handicapping the industry, Sagging economy, Recession, Deprived of financially well-being, Financial Burdon on people	People in this complicated life are notoriously preoccupied and pressed for time. Both the parents are breadwinners, They have very a hectic daily schedules and terribly heavy work-load and always are in rush. They rarely communicate with their immediate family members, To see one's near and dear ones. Undermined the emotional family bonds, Sheer waste of time.	The competitive nature of modern life has made people inquisitive and nosy more than ever before. They spend hours on the phone gossiping and talking behind others' back, scrolling social media to troll and post offensive comments to fulfill their envious feelings, and adding fuel to the fire of rumors. Gone are the days when people valued their in-person relationships; today, these meaningful connections have been superseded by unreal ones.
Monetization	Humanitarian
The financial return and compensation justify the staggering amount of money dedicated, Companies should not begrudge any single penny spent. An exorbitant source of income: Modern and well-equipped museums/athletes /concert halls act as a tourist hotspot. Many visitors will come to visit this uniqueness, no matter how far they have to go or how dangerous their travel may be. They do so for a simple reason: quenching their insatiable sense of curiosity.	We can make sure that our financial support or other aids will reach needy people. It will reduce the possibility of embezzlement and directing helps to ineligible people. Gives us a sense of purpose
Physical health
Trigger many hormones, throw stress away, better concentration, better overall state of mind, better learning process.
Crime
If they do not distinguish correct and incorrect behavior, value morality, deprived of financial well-being, under great amount of stress and tension, financial burden on people juvenile delinquency, perpetrating crime,.

	Abstract Concepts
Bad-mannered persons Descend others' tranquility Will sow the seeds of discord They are in the habit of coming down hard on their teammates/subordinates like tons of bricks, without even bothering to think how hard work or talented the person whom they attack/insult is. Turning a blind eye to others' efforts. Trampling over others' rights. The result of prolonged exposure to (any negative condition) is demonstrating depressive symptoms and mental problems. Expelling/Ignoring them provides friendly environment. Develop the confidence to experiment and succeed in an environment where they are not restricted by the fear of Gain a deep sense of satisfaction and purpose These people enjoy an unfathomable level of fame, adulation, and wealth. As exciting as it may seem to be a rich person/athletes, they have their own disadvantages. The more ... , the more they are probable to find life meaningless. *Well-off people will add the much-needed sense of purpose to their lives by seeing their contribution to the improvement of the living condition of their fellow human beings. *Ignite their passion to exert more effort to work hard. Put a curb on the ever-growing hostility People of poor financial background (poverty-stricken) will start hating financially rich people as if they are the main reason for their misfortune and the financial difficulties they are dealing with. They will find glorious and honorable events about other countries, pinpointing similarities but also respecting the differences and uniqueness of every nation. *Reversing this negative trend. *Feel connected to the rest of the globe/society more than ever before. This may put a curb on the ever-growing xenophobia, and help to bridge the ever-widening gap between once-allied nations. Trust Two-sided trust can maintain the convivial friendships from the sabotage of ill-intentioned people. They will never be affected by the rumors and will take them with a grain of salt, when one is told their companion has talked behind their back. Long-lasting friendships. Biologically speaking, sometimes we need to share our joys and sorrows with others. When trusting each other, friends will reveal their inner-most and deep-seated mysteries to each other. This will cement their friendship stronger. However, it is even dreadful to contemplate that our most confidential secrets are revealed to anyone when they are told to a friend. But when friends are trusted, they will never have such a feeling. This will tighten their bonds.	Raising the spirit Under great amount of pressure and tension, overwhelmed by stress need a type of escapism. Inject freshness into sb's spirit, revitalize depression-fatigued person, survive the vicissitudes of life, to avoid reaching a boiling point and getting stuck in trouble. Nothing better than taking a temporary sabbatical from news resources can be of great assistance to regain the lost mind tranquility and stability. The result of prolonged exposure to (any negative condition) is demonstrating depressive symptoms and mental problems. Maybe taking an even occasional break from modern news could be a panacea for all evils brought by the news, giving us a chance to recover and regain our lost emotional health. Making decision at the moment Some person possesses high intellectual ability to make decision in a proportion of time. Seize the providential opportunities or survive potential threats posed on one's situation. Any hesitation and conservative attitude can create more problems than possible benefits. Morality Adhere to moral standards and ethical principal of a modern society. How they behave and what they use affect all aspects of people lives. Behave as if members of a family do. Respect to others' desires and privacy. Relationships In today's complicated life where close-knit friendships are rarely endured by ill-intentioned people. Friends with overlapping interests and preferences are less likely to experience friction because they are usually on the same page. It will lead to bitter quarrels among family members. One can maintain convivial relationships with their family members/friends by being away from these discussions. Hobby Friends with overlapping interests and preferences are less likely to experience friction because they are usually on the same page. Similar hobbies will ensure togetherness and a great deal of time spent during free time. The more the friends spend time with each other, it is more probable to maintain their relationship for an extended period.	Turning back to ourselves We have given up living life based on our own preferences and desires, instead, we have started living in the way that we are expected to live. Being disconnected from (others' opinion/the mainstream) can open the doors to one to foster his or her imagination and to enjoy the taste of true and authentic self. Providing deeper understanding Acquire fascinating insight and in-depth knowledge. Take for granted the effect of face-to-face communication/spoken words, Express emotions and meanings in a correct manner. To avoid misinterpretation. Being aware of every detail of the subject. Evaluating issues from different point of view and source, Quench their thirst for learning, curiosity. People discuss issues and exchange views, explore ideas, and solve problems. Draw others to debate, further understanding. Opposite view Exposure to news opposite to one's ideologies and perspectives can foster out of the box thinking. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Over-consumption of favorable news is an impediment for viewing problems, situations, and realities from different perspectives. This situation is a contributor to developing a big-picture perspective. One learns how to see the world from the lens of someone cherishing beliefs completely conflicting with those of one. It helps one to think critically. People will put their heart and soul into their obligations. They will understand that their shortcomings or poor interpersonal skills will lead to losing their credits or even position. Children A child aged between 5 to10 spends his formative years. In this period, the mind is like a sponge, soaking up and absorbing countless drops of the behaviors of its surroundings. The concepts unconsciously will be carried with the kids to their adulthood. Share honesty (or anything good) with the kid, see the fruits of this practice remaining forever; it—the fruit—neither spoils nor falls from the tree. It continues to grow to be the most distinguished characteristic of the person.

Enhancing the level of tolerance Embracing opposite views (or anything bad) is a promising step toward enhancing the level of tolerance and accepting differences. Sad but true, in today's modern life, founded on individualism, "my own view" and "my preference" are phrases we hear frequently every day. People don't make a compromise, nor do they accept their selfish views. This autocratic and intransigent attitude is the byproduct of turning a deaf ear to opposite opinions. Listening to and reading news represented by people with whom we are not on the same page can make us more tolerant of different beliefs. We will no longer insult others' uniqueness and will appreciate their unique views and principles. Maybe this practice can eradicate the hostility and contemptuous feelings prevalent in modern society. Nothing in this world will go unnoticed Will get the impression that nothing in this world will go unnoticed This practice will teach them accountability for their wrongdoing and encourage them to behave in an acceptable manner and carry out responsibilities because of rewards awaiting them. This will add a much-needed sense of purpose and incentive to their lives. Do not care others' opinions To begin with, cherishing one's own ideologies, without compromising, is a key to out-of-the-box thinking and risk-taking. As a spoiler of success and happiness, caring too much about how we are perceived in societies is second to none. We should not found our life based on others' reaction; rather, we should live a life based on our own terms, beliefs, and standards. This is the prerequisite of success and enormous achievements. Countless talented people around the world do not reach the zenith of their capabilities only for a simple reason: sticking to some old-fashioned and obsolete beliefs.	Failure, victory, persistency, perseverance In many times, the only thing that assists the person to surmount their difficulties is perseverance and hard-working spirit. There is no tool named luck for removing barriers. Putting a great deal of effort in any situation and bouncing back higher than you fall can snatch victory from jaws of defeat To see the glass half full. To see the glass half empty A glass-half-full person A glass-half-empty person: pessimistic Failures can be a blessing in disguise. Sense of acceptance Human beings inherently crave admiration and acceptance. This is why they naturally prioritize ... over ..., as this arrangement helps them fulfill their natural zeal to be noticed and appreciated. People put their strenuous effort and demonstrate a high level of perseverance/kindness in their workplace/relationships to achieve adulation, giving them a pleasure that cannot be substituted with whatever This is because appreciation and tendency toward acceptance is the strongest established need in human nature. Parents-children Parents are not informative and knowledgeable about state-of-the-art technologies and professions. Parents live vicariously through their children and are inclined toward projecting their own failed desires onto their offspring. It is often seen that they send their children to medical school so that they can become the greatest surgeon in their country. They do so, without even bothering to think whether it is a major that their child has an affinity for. Indeed, they do so for a single purpose: to see their unachieved desire to be a doctor fulfilled by their child. Parents are notoriously conservative when asked to give their opinion about taking risks. This old-fashioned attitude is sufficient to discourage children's entrepreneurial inclination toward professional life. They want their children employed in a secure job with a guaranteed monthly paycheck instead of embracing challenges behind which there are numerous opportunities to accumulate wealth beyond the dreams. This attitude will nip every creative notion in the bud.	Honesty From a social standpoint, nothing better than sharing integrity and truthfulness can grow young children into God-fearing, law-abiding citizens when they attend the society a few years down the road. Share honesty with the kid, see the fruits of this practice remaining forever; it—the fruit—neither spoils nor falls from the tree. It continues to grow to be the most distinguished characteristic of the person. The years of sharing integrity with children at their critical juncture of lives will teach them to stay true to their conscious and choose the right path when facing ethical quandaries. Once established and nurtured adequately, the honesty will carry over to one's adulthood, making his or her an ethical and morally competent person. . ☞☞ Furthermore, sharing honesty ensures emotional security. Early childhood is identified with the time of play, fooling around, and causing troubles. Children—these little, professional troublemakers—have the fear of punishment and being blamed for their wrongdoing. Whether they have overprotective parents, children know that they cannot get away with everything; punishment or asking to be answerable lies ahead of them. To get around the punishment, they resort to concealing the truth by choosing to be dishonest. If this trend continues, it will be only a question of time before they fall into the spiral of hiding the truth. Escaping accountability by lying, children will end up suffering malignant emotional consequences. They constantly tear apart inside as they never receive emotional support or sympathy in the case of making mistakes because they have chosen to conceal the truth as the relief to their wounds. If children learn to be honest from an early age, they will always reveal the reality no matter what. They know that the emotional support, warmth, and sympathy of their family members, friends, or teachers will outweigh the pain of the possible punishment and accountability
---	--	---

Example:

TPO-47 - Independent Writing Task

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? It is important to know about events happening around the world, even if it is unlikely that they will affect your daily life.

First and foremost, being aware of other countries' events put a curb on the ever-growing xenophobia. The conventional wisdom has it that the way of people's life has experienced drastic changes because of social media, through which people are able to pinpoint similarities with other nations and find out honorable events about them. Thus, people will realize other countries' uniqueness, and practice to respect them. For instance, poverty-stricken people, like people of Iraq, would think that people of the USA who are leading an enjoyable life, are the main reason for their poor financial condition. However, after watching their cultures and living condition, they would realize that they should find the root of their difficult condition in their life, because all the Americans are busy with their own activities, and they have nothing to do with the people of Iraq.

Secondly, people by watching events can get the impression that having a perseverance spirit enables them to obtain their desires. Being aware of others' experiences is believed by some, particularly psychologists, to have deeply affected people's life. Seeing people of other countries trying to make their own life better, you will realize that it is possible for you to bounce higher than you fall. Should we see other people on television putting a great deal of effort and achieving their goals, we will definitely practice to be a half-glass-full person, and try to change the existing terrible condition. Even watching a football match can be helpful. I know lots of people who frequently tell me: If were not for the effects of the final Asian cup and changing the results in the last minutes, I would never have got the feeling that it is possible for me to snatch from the jaws of defeat and build my long-lasting dreams.